

Conversations About Teaching

Zoom Workshops for Adjunct Faculty

February 1

March 1

April 12

All workshops are on zoom from 4:30 – 5:30 PM

Join CELT for Conversations About Teaching, a series of special workshops specifically geared towards adjunct faculty, whether you are new to Middlesex or a long-time faculty member. Each session will focus on a specific topic, and is also an opportunity to talk about teaching, share challenges in your courses, and learn new strategies to bring back to your classroom. You can attend just one, or all of the workshops as fit your schedule. All participants must sign up with their Middlesex College email account.

Please register for one, or of all of these, and all of the CELT events at: www.middlesexcc.edu/celt and sign up on Eventbrite. A Zoom link will be sent the evening before the workshop so please register with your Middlesex email. We're looking forward to being together to share ideas in our virtual space!

February 1: Managing Sticky Situations in the Classroom

March 1: Driving everywhere: Juggling the Adjunct Life
